oaths of office. The minutes having been read accordingly, the Excellency observed, that strictly spenking they were not correct, us he had not at that Council taken the outle prescribed by his astructions. The short time which claraed on the 12th Inst., between the production of his instructions and the garamony of taking the ouths rendered more or less exursable the mistake committed by those who had charge of the preliminary arrangements. He now availed himself of this opportunity to correct a misapprelicission as to any informality in the administration of the oa ba, invaledating his acte as governor. His authority as governor was derived from her Mojesty's commission, and did not depend in far as regarded the public) upon his taking any particular form of outh. The instructions which a Governor received from Her Majesty, he neight make public or he might not and his obedience to them was a matter for which he was solely responsible to the crown but the mutherity of his office was deived from a different scurce viz., his commission. Still us he was required under the sign manuel of Her Majesty to anke a particular form of outh which he had not as yet taken, he would now ask the Acting Chief Justice to administer that oath to him. Moreover as there appeared to have been some little irregularity in the ment in which he attem outh had been adming il of the 12th March, he would; er oath skain. He was quite willing to effer any explanation that might be required; although the not was one not belonging to his administration. This Culony being a Crowe Colony, was not the same medica as those Colonies that possessed their own legislatures in reference to its budget as the Executive here was bound to fornish pur estimates to the home government by June or each year, for the following year. The supplementary expenditure had been estimated ut the large sum of $245,000 which had been privoipally decreed by the expenditure on the Mint, and the different system of amount adopted in reference to the Post office remittances. It would be found however that if these two items were deduced from the gross total of $285,000 the General Expenditure was really less by $27,000 than bud been originally contemplated. Such is the foundstion and management of American mining companies generally in Mexico: and the history of the Dios Fadre, Realito, Santa Clara, San José, Septentrion, and Uraque Companies will bear me ou in the assertion that it is the false basis upon which they have been organized, and bad management that have proved their ruin. The money has been spent in putting up rig mills to lie idle, instead, of spending the money in opening their mines and proving whether they had any ores that would untily the expense of a mill. Don Martin Salido one of the most enterprising men of Mexico, said that Americans were the best miners in the world, but so far they had done nothing but discredit Mexican mines by bad management.
